

Project Profile Bathroom Refurbishment

This property management company wanted to upgrade the appearance of these bathrooms while making them easier to clean and maintain. They called ADVANCED Polymer Repairs because of the success that ADVANCED has had with bathrooms and showers in colleges, hospitals and prisons.

A coating system was specified which not only greatly improved the appearance of the bathrooms but made them easier to clean and maintain. Because the grout joints are completely sealed, scrubbing the floors and walls to keep them clean was a thing of the past. The new cleaning procedure is to simply wet mop the floor. The property owner was so happy with this “trial project” that they have specified this system for all bathroom refurbishment in their 6 million square feet of buildings.
